COMPREHENSIVE PLAN REVISION PROCESS

A comprehensive plan is intended to be a long-range planning document that helps to guide growth and development in the community for about 20 years. For it to be effective, it must be a “living document” that is regularly used to guide decision-making. Residents who participated in the New Stuyahok planning process want to see it result in real accomplishments that can be tracked over time.

The revision process for this plan will occur at five-year intervals. The revision process for this implementing the priorities identified in this plan and updating the plan will occur at regular intervals. The revision process will always seek input from residents, and all discussions of progress on plan priorities and revisions to the plan will be publicly announced. Milestones in plan implementation and revisions include:

- A copy of the plan will be brought to each Village Council and City Council meeting, and will be consulted in decision-making on priority projects.
- The planning team can designate measures for gauging progress for each goal statement, for example, “three new village businesses will be started in the next three years”. These measures should be used on an annual basis to assess progress and adjust strategies if needed.
- On an annual basis, the Implementation section of the plan will be updated as projects are completed and new projects arise. This updating will be accomplished at an annual meeting of the village and city council, with input from the full community. The updated Implementation section will be recorded and distributed to all community organizations for use in the coming year.
- On a five-year basis, the New Stuyahok Community Comprehensive Plan will be reviewed by the village and city councils, with full public involvement, to determine which actions have been accomplished, and which priority actions should be focused on during the following years. Over time, these revisions to the comprehensive plan will help to document the accomplishments made, and the new priorities that surface.
- After ten or twenty years, and the completion of many of the goals and strategies of the comprehensive plan, the village and city councils will want to reflect upon the accomplishments of the preceding 20 years and, again, plan for the next 20 years by taking on a public participation process to gain community-wide input on the next New Stuyahok Community Comprehensive Plan.
